

AUTHENTIC LEADERSHIP IN ACTION

ALIA Europe
January 10–16, 2010
Mennorode Conference Centre
Elspeet, Netherlands

After nine years of convening bright lights at the leading edge of social and organizational innovation from its home base in Nova Scotia, Canada, the ALIA Institute is coming to Europe. We invite you to join us for this exciting inaugural gathering.

Here you will engage with forward-thinking peers in a six-day learning community that also includes world-class faculty, artists, and meditation teachers. In your 15-hour module you will learn new strategies and approaches for achieving your leadership goals. In your theme group you will apply your learning and share your experience with others who are working on similar projects, or who bring similar issues and questions.

Throughout the week you will increase your ability to be mindful and artful, engage with big ideas and a virtuoso violinist, and make new connections with leaders from across sectors.

Choose the module that best suits your current leadership needs

The Art of Hosting Transformational Change
Toke Paludan Møller & Phil Cass

Deep Democracy: Resolving Complex Issues and Reaching Decisions that Last Myrna Lewis

Embodied Leadership
Wendy Palmer

An Integral Practice for Evolutionary Leadership and Change
Peter Merry & Dylan Newcomb

Leading through Turbulent Times: The Art of Effective Execution
Lasse Wrenmark

Practicing Fearlessness in Times of Fear
Margaret Wheatley & Jerry Granelli

Solving Tough Problems: Co-creating New Realities in Complex Systems
Adam Kahane, LeAnne Grillo & Mustafa Suleyman

Transforming Leadership (Including Yours!) through Action Inquiry
David Rooke & Elaine Herdman-Barker

Artists in residence
Barbara Bash, Steve Clorfeine, Jerry Granelli, Arawana Hayashi, Dylan Newcomb, Miha Pogačnik, Liane Stephan & Helen Vink

"This is an opportunity for some rare reflection time in a frenetic world. After crossing the Atlantic three times to attend ALIA programmes, I would definitely recommend that Europeans take advantage of this special opportunity."

—Paul Sharp, Learning and Development Leader for ARUP Europe

Why this programme?

Nine years of experience has shown that the design and calibre of the ALIA learning community produces transformational results... though not always the results you expected. If you participate fully, you will return home with the insights, strategies, tools, and relationships that are exactly right for you, your leadership, and your organization or network, right now.

Location

The Mennorode Conference Centre is about one hour southeast of Amsterdam, in the scenic and historical Veluwe region of the Netherlands.

Fee

€2600. Includes tuition and all meals but not accommodation. Check the ALIA website for early registration, team, and other discounts. On-site accommodation is available at €396 single occupancy (€336 double) for six nights.

For more information and to register

www.ALIAinstitute.org
0031 (33) 4677427

About the Institute

The ALIA Institute began as the acclaimed Shambhala Summer Institute, which has convened annually on the east coast of Canada since 2001. The Institute has been a hub in a global movement towards more engaged and impactful approaches to leadership, strategy, and innovation.

The ALIA Institute draws on two streams of influence. One is leading-edge: the new-paradigm thinking and tools emerging from living systems and complexity theory, chaordic design, Theory U, collaborative leadership, and other related disciplines. The other has ancient roots: the deep and rigorous understanding of mindfulness and authentic presence that runs through Buddhist and Shambhala traditions. The integration of these streams creates a powerful support for leaders who are seeking high performance while staying aligned with their deepest values and navigating through uncharted waters in tumultuous times.

ALIA faculty and associates include Peter Senge, Otto Scharmer, Brian Bacon, Juanita Brown, Art Kleiner, Bill Torbert, many of the ALIA Europe module leaders, and a team of professional artists and meditation teachers.

The ALIA Institute is an independent nonprofit organization based in Halifax, Nova Scotia.